

FOOD FOR THOUGHT

~ A 2017 JAMBOREE FOOD TEAM COMMUNIQUÉ ~

~ FEBRUARY 2016 ~

Let me start with a rhetorical question: Were you there for the 100th Anniversary Jamboree? Think about your answer and then read on. There are several likely responses to that come to mind as I try to envision your possible answers: (1) yes both, (2) yes, meaning you were at the 2010 Jamboree, (3) yes, meaning you were at the 2007 Jamboree, (4) a question in reply ‘which 100th Anniversary Jamboree are you talking about – 2007 World in England or 2010 National in the U.S.A.?’, and then of course the natural final answer, (5) no.

The 100th Anniversary Jamborees were both major events and ones of a character you might say they were once in a lifetime events. Rest assured, I write that not to just state the obvious but to use it as a truism so I can ask the next question. So read on please.

So if the events of a lifetime have happened: why did we plan for 2013 and the first Jamboree at the Summit? Oh, of course, that was an event of a lifetime too for axiomatically there would be only one first Jamboree there. Now that too is in the history books and again we are at a crossroads. Do we throw in the towel and not go to the 2017 Jamboree because all the good ones have happened? Or rather do we realize that each Jamboree, in and of itself, is the event of a lifetime for the kid who is attending it for the first time!

OK, that’s a good reason for the youth to attend but I’m betting some veteran staffer is going to ask something like: why should I go to the Jamboree in 2017 for it isn’t a big deal year? I’ll ask you to pause and think whether you have ever asked yourself that question. If you have and your answer caused you to not apply for staff, you ought to stop reading right now and stop living Jamboree vicariously through social media (because if you are not on our staff that is the only way you have found this newsletter to peruse). If instead you would like to come to the Jamboree in 2017, but put off deciding until closer to the time so you could plan, now it’s 2016 and that’s plenty close enough to figure out what you are going to do next year. If you register and join us, there is awaiting an event of a lifetime for you. Perhaps even more important, you will make the 2017 Jamboree happen for the youth who is attending their first Jamboree. That's once in a lifetime level work you will be making happen for them, all the while you get to work with and see your Scouting friends.

I chose that final word of the last sentence carefully, for friends are a key reason many staff return. Seeing your Jamboree colleagues again and together experiencing a couple weeks of camaraderie is part of the essence of this every four year event. So let me now offer a list of those who have registered for the Jamboree Food Team so you can see who is on the Jamboree Food Team we hope you will chose to join:
