

Cover Letter from Rick Diles, Jamboree Food Director - April 2018

Date: April 7, 2018

To: 24th World Scout Jamboree participating National Scout Organizations

From: Rick Diles, Jamboree Food Director (2019jamboreefood@gmail.com)

North America is excited to be hosting the 24th World Scout Jamboree at the Summit in West Virginia, USA. Your NSO can add your culture and flavors to the Jamboree by operating an International Food House. Food Houses add something very special to the Jamboree experience for participants, IST, and visitors. The Food House area will become a key meeting place where lifetime friendships begin.

We would like to invite you to consider applying for your NSO to participate in our International Food House Program. You will want to apply by the October 15, 2018 deadline, as our booth space is limited. Below are links to two documents to help you prepare your application:

First, please review the "Food House Policies and Guidelines" document <http://jamboreefoodteam.org/international-food-houses/>. These are the common rules every Food House must follow. These policies are current but please understand it is likely they will be updated and the provisions in this document will change some as we get closer to the Jamboree. Any changes to this document will be communicated in the monthly update email to all interested NSO Food Houses representatives.

Next is the "Food House Application Worksheet" at <http://jamboreefoodteam.org/international-food-houses/>. This document will serve as a checklist for gathering your NSO's information and your decisions needed to complete the online application due by October 15, 2018. A link to the online application will be sent in August of 2018.

Thank You!
